Class Representative Jane Doe 1 (“Class Representative” or “Lead Plaintiff”), individually and on behalf of a certified class¹ of similarly situated victims (“Class”), respectfully submits this memorandum of law in support of her amended unopposed motion for: (i) preliminary approval of the proposed $290 million Settlement² in Jane Doe 1 v. JPMorgan Chase Bank N.A., Case No. 1:22-CV-10019 (JSR) (the “Litigation”) between Jane Doe 1, on behalf of herself and the Class, and Defendant JPMorgan Chase Bank N.A. (“JPMorgan” or the “Bank” or “Defendant” and, together with the Class, the “Parties”); (ii) approval of the form and manner of the notice to be provided to the Class; and (iii) the scheduling of a hearing (the “Settlement Hearing”) on the final approval of the Settlement and Class Counsel’s application for an award of attorneys’ fees and litigation costs and expenses and deadlines related thereto. The Parties’ agreed-upon, proposed Order Granting Preliminary Approval Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23 (e)(1) and Permitting Notice to the Class (the “Preliminary Approval Order”) is filed herewith.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

The Parties have negotiated, at arm’s length and with the assistance of experienced and neutral mediators, a proposed settlement of all claims in this Litigation for $290 million in cash.

The settlement is the result of a multi-year pre-Complaint investigation and analysis, and of the hard-fought litigation that followed the filing of the Complaint. The pre-Complaint investigation and analysis included the identification and interviewing of more than a hundred witnesses with knowledge of Epstein’s sex trafficking ring; the collection and analysis of thousands of documents; extensive interactions with law enforcement personnel and prosecutors, and the analysis and evaluation of their information and documents; securing affidavits and other statements under oath from potential trial witnesses; legal research and analysis, and the development and drafting of the claims ultimately asserted; and the retention, and work with, leading experts.

² Unless otherwise stated or defined, all capitalized terms used herein shall have the meanings provided in the Stipulation of Settlement, as filed simultaneously herewith. All emphasis is added and all citations are omitted unless otherwise noted.

The litigation that followed the filing of the initial Complaint was hard fought and extensive. Represented by experienced and aggressive counsel, Defendant moved to dismiss both the initial and the amended Complaint; resisted discovery of it; engaged in extensive discovery of Lead Plaintiff and Lead Plaintiff's witnesses; opposed class certification; filed a Daubert motion; Class Counsel undertook additional factual investigations and interviews; analyzed hundreds of thousands of documents; took and defended 15 depositions of fact witnesses and four depositions of experts; drafted, filed, and defended an amended Complaint; responded to Defendant's motions; and, ultimately, prepared for, and participated in, many mediation sessions in person, by Zoom, and over the phone. Throughout their work, both before and after filing a Complaint, Class Counsel relied on their experience, knowledge, and contacts resulting from many years of experience (more than nine years for the Boies firm and more than 15 years for the Edwards firm) representing Epstein survivors in their pursuit of justice.

This resolution represents a substantial recovery that falls well within the range of reasonable resolutions. The terms of the Settlement are set forth in the Stipulation of Settlement (the "Stipulation"), filed simultaneously herewith.

Lead Plaintiff and Class Counsel³ approve of the Settlement. Lead Plaintiff is a victim of Jeffrey Epstein's sex trafficking and actively oversaw the Litigation and authorized the Settlement.

³ When the Court certified the Class, the Court also appointed Boies Schiller Flexner LLP ("BSF") and Edwards Henderson Lehrman, LLC ("EHL") as Class Counsel. See ECF No. 171 (noting that Class Counsel have deep litigation experience, including in class action litigation and in litigation on behalf of survivors of sex trafficking and abuse, and are recognized leaders in those fields. Based upon their experience and evaluation of the facts and the applicable law, Class Counsel and Lead Plaintiff submit that the proposed Settlement is fair, reasonable, adequate, and in the best interests of the Class. This is especially so considering the risk that the Class might recover substantially less (or nothing) if the action were litigated through summary judgment, trial, and the likely post-trial motions and appeals that would follow (a process that could last several years). Given these and other risks inherent in this complex class action, and the Settlement's significant value, the Settlement represents an excellent and fair result for the Class. The proposed settlement resolves the Class's claims and satisfies all the criteria for preliminary settlement approval under federal law.

At this stage, the Court need only make a preliminary evaluation of the Settlement's fairness, such that the Class should be notified of the proposed Settlement. Considering the substantial recovery obtained, and the risks and burdens entailed in summary judgment and trial, Lead Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court grant preliminary approval of the Settlement and enter the Preliminary Approval Order. Among other things, the Preliminary Approval Order: (i) preliminarily approves the Settlement on the terms set forth in the Stipulation; (ii) approves the form and content of the Notice of Proposed Settlement of Class Action (the "Notice") and the Summary Notice of Proposed Settlement of Class Action (the "Summary Notice"), attached to the Stipulation as Exhibits A-1 and A-2, respectively; (iii) holds that the procedures for distribution of the Notice and publication of the Summary Notice in the manner and form set forth in the Preliminary Approval Edwards Pottinger, LLC has formally changed its name to Edwards Henderson Lehrman, LLC since ECF No. 171 was issued).

Order constitute the best notice practicable under the circumstances and comply with the notice requirements of Due Process and Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure; and (iv) sets a schedule and procedures for disseminating the Notice and publication of the Summary Notice, objecting to the Settlement or Class Counsel's application for an award of attorneys' fees and litigation costs and expenses, submitting papers in support of final approval of the Settlement, and the Settlement Hearing.

HISTORY OF THE LITIGATION

Lead Plaintiff's counsel began investigating this matter in 2021 and ultimately commenced the action on November 24, 2022 by filing an initial individual and class action complaint, which was later amended on January 13, 2023. The operative Complaint alleges that Jeffrey Epstein's sex trafficking venture was facilitated and enabled by Defendant helping Epstein avoid regulators' scrutiny and providing Epstein with withdrawal and wire services, all so Defendant could profit from Epstein and his associates. See ECF No. 36 (Amended Complaint). Lead Plaintiff alleges that Defendant's assistance to Epstein's sex trafficking enterprise prevented the authorities from discovering his illegal scheme and increased the size and scale Epstein's access to and control of victims, causing damage to members of the Class.

In preparation for the filing of this action, Class Counsel engaged in extensive research, conducted dozens of interviews, and reviewed thousands of documents they have accumulated over the past fifteen years of litigation against Jeffrey Epstein, his Estate, and his associates. Class Counsel have confidentially interviewed at least 100 individuals, including dozens of survivors both in the United States and abroad, as well as a number of other witnesses who were close to or associated with Epstein for many years. Additionally, Class Counsel reviewed an enormous volume of publicly available documents regarding Jeffrey Epstein and his sex-trafficking operation inclusive of civil complaints, police reports, investigative reports, other information obtained through criminal investigations, court transcripts, news articles, audio recordings of survivors, and a multitude of other publicly available sources. Finally, Class Counsel conducted significant research into Defendant, including extensive review of other lawsuits filed against the Defendant and other regulatory findings.

Defendant denies all Lead Plaintiff's allegations. Defendant denies that JPMorgan participated in the Epstein sex trafficking venture. Defendant further denies that its conduct supported Epstein's sex trafficking venture or prevented law enforcement from apprehending Epstein sooner than it ultimately did. Defendant contests Lead Plaintiff's allegations that Defendant has liability under the Trafficking Victims Protection Act ("TVPA") or under New York law. On December 30, 2022, Defendant moved to dismiss Lead Plaintiff's initial complaint. See ECF No. 31. Following Lead Plaintiff's amended pleading on January 13, 2023, Defendant moved to dismiss the operative Complaint on February 7, 2023. ECF No. 44. The Court granted in part and denied in part the motion on March 20, 2023. See ECF No. 66. Defendant answered the Complaint on April 10, 2023. See ECF No. 83.

The Parties engaged in extensive discovery efforts spanning several months. All told, hundreds of thousands of pages were reviewed and produced by the Parties and by non-parties in response to subpoenas. Furthermore, 12 fact witnesses (including non-parties) and 3 expert witnesses testified during depositions. Fact discovery closed on May 30, 2023. See ECF No. 74.

On April 28, 2023, Lead Plaintiff moved for class certification. See ECF No. 95. On June 12, 2023, the Court certified the Class. See ECF No. 171.

NEGOTIATION OF SETTLEMENT

On May 30, 2023, the Parties engaged in a confidential mediation with experienced mediators in large and complex civil sexual abuse matters and class actions, including Layn Phillips of Phillips ADR and members of his team. In advance of that mediation, Class Counsel and Defendant’s Counsel each provided the mediators with mediation statements and engaged in a full-day mediation. Shortly after that mediation, the Parties reached a settlement in principle. The Parties negotiated a Term Sheet, memorializing their agreement to settle Lead Plaintiff’s claims against Defendant and to end the Litigation. The Parties executed the Term Sheet on June 11, 2023. The Term Sheet included, among other things, the Parties’ agreement to settle and dismiss the litigation with prejudice and to grant full mutual releases in return for a cash payment of $290 million by and/or on behalf of Defendant for the benefit of the Class, subject to the negotiation of the terms of a Stipulation of Settlement and approval by the Court, which the Parties now seek.

Considering the substantial benefit to the Class, and the significant costs and risks of further litigation—and in recognition of the fact that the proposed Settlement is the result of arm’s-length negotiations by experienced counsel overseen by well-respected mediators—Lead Plaintiff respectfully submits that the proposed Settlement warrants preliminary approval so that notice can be provided to the Class.

SETTLEMENT TERMS

The Settlement provides that Defendant will pay or cause to be paid $290 million into an Escrow Account, which amount plus accrued interest comprises the Global Settlement Fund. Stipulation, ¶ 2.2. Notice to the Class and the cost of settlement administration (“Notice and Administration Expenses”) will be paid from the Global Settlement Fund. Id. at ¶ 5.2. A Claims Administrator will be selected to administer the settlement. Id. at ¶ 1.2.

As set forth in the proposed Notice, Class Counsel will submit an application in support of final approval of the Settlement and an application for an award of (i) attorneys' fees on behalf of Class Counsel to be paid from the Global Settlement Fund in an amount not to exceed thirty percent (30%) of the Settlement Amount, and (ii) litigation costs, charges, and expenses in an amount not to exceed $2.5 million, plus interest accrued on both amounts at the same rate as earned by the Global Settlement Fund.

After payments to Class Members, payment of Notice and Administration Expenses, Taxes, Tax Expenses, and Court-approved attorneys' fees, costs, charges, and expenses from the Global Settlement Fund, the remaining amount – if any – shall be distributed to a charitable organization to be determined in a mutually agreeable fashion by the Settling Parties as a cy pres recipient. See In re Petrobras Secs. Litig., 2018 WL 4521211, at *5 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 21, 2018) (Rakoff, J.) (holding cy pres recipients may be identified after settlement approval and a determination that there are funds remaining for cy pres recipients). The proposed allocation process described in the Stipulation and Notice is comparable to those approved in numerous other class actions.

The proposed Settlement is in all respects fair, adequate, reasonable, and in the best interests of the Class.

ARGUMENT

I. PRELIMINARY APPROVAL IS WARRANTED AND WILL ALLOW LEAD PLAINTIFF TO NOTIFY THE CLASS

In the Second Circuit, there is a ““strong judicial policy in favor of settlements, particularly in the class action context.”” Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Visa U.S.A. Inc., 396 F.3d 96, 116 (2d Cir. 2005) (quoting In re PaineWebber Ltd. P’ships Litig., 147 F.3d 132, 138 (2d Cir. 1998)); see also In re Prudential Sec. Inc. Ltd. P’ships Litig., 163 F.R.D. 200, 209 (S.D.N.Y. 1995) (“It is well established that there is an overriding public interest in settling and quieting litigation, and this is particularly true in class actions.”). Courts have approved class settlements in sex abuse cases with similar allegations and alleged injuries. See A.B., et al. v. The Regents of the University of California, et al., Case No. 2:20-CV-09555 (C.D. Cal. Oct. 9, 2020); In re: USC Student Health Center Litigation, Case No. 2:18-CV-04258 (C.D. Cal. May 21, 2018). Courts have also approved class settlements in TVPA cases. See, e.g., Paguirigan v. Prompt Nursing Employment Agency LLC, No. 17-CV-01302 (E.D.N.Y. Mar. 7, 2017). Rule 23(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure requires judicial approval of a class action settlement. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e) (“The claims . . . [of] a class proposed to be certified for purposes of settlement . . . may be settled . . . only with the court’s approval.”). The approval process typically takes place in two stages. In re LIBOR-Based Financial Instruments Antitrust Litigation, 2018 WL 3475465, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. July 19, 2018). In the first stage, a court provides preliminary approval of the settlement and authorizes notice of the settlement be given to the class. See id. (“Preliminary approval of a proposed settlement is the first in a two-step process required before a class action may be settled.”). That is what Lead Plaintiff seeks in this motion. In the second stage, which will come only if the Court grants this motion, the court holds a fairness hearing and “makes a final determination as to whether the proposed settlement is fair, reasonable and adequate.” In re Initial Pub. Offering Sec. Litig., 243 F.R.D. 79, 87 (S.D.N.Y. 2007).

Pursuant to Rule 23(e)(1), the preliminary approval of a settlement is appropriate where “the parties . . . show[] that the court will likely be able to: (i) approve the proposal under Rule 23(e)(2); and (ii) certify the class for purposes of judgment on the proposal.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(1)(B). Rule 23(e)(2), which governs final approval, identifies factors that courts must consider in determining whether a class action settlement is “fair, reasonable, and adequate,” including whether:

- a) the Lead Plaintiff and Class Counsel have adequately represented the class;
- b) the proposal was negotiated at arm’s length;
- c) the relief provided for the class is adequate, taking into account:
 - (i) the costs, risks, and delay of trial and appeal;
 - (ii) the effectiveness of any proposed method of distributing relief to the class, including the method of processing class-member claims;
 - (iii) the terms of any proposed award of attorneys’ fees, including timing of payment; and
 - (iv) any agreement required to be identified under Rule 23(e)(3); and
- d) the proposal treats class members equitably relative to each other.

Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2).

Overlapping with the factors listed in Rule 23(e) are the nine so-called Grinnell factors which the Second Circuit has counseled district courts to consider in determining whether to grant final approval to a class action settlement:

- (1) the complexity, expense and likely duration of the litigation;
- (2) the reaction of the class to the settlement;
- (3) the stage of the proceedings and the amount of discovery completed;
- (4) the risks of establishing liability;
- (5) the risks of establishing damages;
- (6) the risks of maintaining the class action through the trial;
- (7) the ability of the defendants to withstand a greater judgment;
- (8) the range of reasonableness of the Global Settlement Fund in light of the best possible recovery;
- [and] (9) the range of reasonableness of the Global Settlement Fund to a possible recovery in light of all the attendant risks of litigation.

Detroit v. Grinnell Corp., 495 F.2d 448, 463 (2d Cir. 1974).

The Rule 23(e) factors are not intended to “displace” any previously adopted factors but “rather to focus the court and the lawyers on the core concerns of procedure and substance that should guide the decision whether to approve the proposal.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2) advisory committee’s note to 2018 amendment. Likewise, “[i]n finding that a settlement is fair, not every factor must weigh in favor of settlement, ‘rather the court should consider the totality of these factors in light of the particular circumstances.’” In re Glob. Crossing Sec. & ERISA Litig., 225 F.R.D. 436, 456 (S.D.N.Y. 2004) (quoting Thompson v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 216 F.R.D. 55, 61 (S.D.N.Y. 2003)).

Preliminary approval requires only an “initial evaluation” of the fairness of the proposed settlement on the bases of written submissions and an informal presentation by the settling parties. Clark v. Ecolab, Inc., 04 Civ. 4488, 2009 WL 6615729, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 27, 2009) (citing Newberg on Class Actions § 11.25). If, after preliminary evaluation of the proposed settlement, the court finds that it “appears to fall within the range of possible approval,” the court should order that the class members receive notice of the settlement. Id.

Here, Lead Plaintiff is requesting only that the Court take the first step in the settlement approval process and grant preliminary approval of the proposed Settlement. As stated above, the proposed Settlement provides for a Global Settlement Fund of $290 million in cash, a beneficial recovery to the Class and “within the range of possible approval.” In re Initial Pub. Offering Sec. Litig., 243 F.R.D. at 87 (“Where the proposed settlement appears to be the product of serious, informed, non-collusive negotiations, has no obvious deficiencies, does not improperly grant preferential treatment to class representatives or segments of the class and falls within the range of possible approval, preliminary approval is granted.”) (quoting In re Nasdaq Market-Makers Antitrust Litig., 176 F.R.D. at 102).

A. The Rule 23(e)(2) Factors Are Satisfied

1. Lead Plaintiff and Class Counsel Have Adequately Represented the Class

As set forth the Class Certification Order, see ECF Nos. 171, Lead Plaintiff’s interests in this case align with those of the other Class Members. See Wal-Mart, 396 F.3d at 106–07 (“Adequate representation of a particular claim is determined by the alignment of interests of class members.”). Lead Plaintiff, who suffered the same or similar injuries as other Class Members, has demonstrated her ability and willingness to pursue the litigation on the Class’s behalf through her active involvement in the litigation, including by searching for and producing documents, scheduling a deposition, reviewing numerous filings, staying apprised of developments in the case, participating in settlement negotiations, and approving the Settlement. See In re Advanced Battery Techs., Inc. Sec. Litig., 298 F.R.D. 171, 184 (S.D.N.Y. 2014) (finding that Class Representative had adequately represented the class where, similar to here, Class Representative spent time “reviewing pleadings, motions, and other documents; searching for and producing documents; traveling to New York to appear for a deposition; and communicating with counsel concerning the status of the case; and staying apprised of all developments in the case, including discussions about the [s]ettlement”). Lead Plaintiff and Class Counsel zealously advocated for the interests of victims of Jeffrey Epstein and have obtained an excellent result on the Class’s claims. Lead Plaintiff’s decision to settle this case was informed by a thorough investigation of the relevant claims; extensive fact and expert discovery; extensive briefing on a motion to dismiss, a motion for class certification, and motions relating to discovery issues; and participation in extensive settlement negotiations, which included a two-day mediation. The Settlement is demonstrably the product of well-informed negotiations and vigorous advocacy on behalf of victims of Jeffrey Epstein. Accordingly, this factor weighs in favor of approval.

2. The Proposed Settlement Is the Result of Good Faith, Arm's Length Negotiations

Courts presume that a proposed settlement is fair and reasonable when it is the result of arm's-length negotiations between counsel. See In re EVCI Career Colleges Holding Corp. Sec. Litig., 2007 WL 2230177, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. July 27, 2007) (“A proposed class action settlement enjoys a strong presumption that it is fair, reasonable and adequate if, as is the case here, it was the product of arm's-length negotiations conducted by capable counsel, well-experienced in class action litigation arising under the federal securities laws.”); Weinberger v. Kendrick, 698 F.2d 61, 73 (2d Cir. 1982), cert. denied, 464 U.S. 818 (1983) (“The central question raised by the proposed settlement of a class action is whether the compromise is fair, reasonable and adequate.”). This is particularly true when, as here, a mediator assisted the parties in reaching a settlement. See D'Amato v. Deutsche Bank, 236 F.3d 78, 85 (2d Cir. 2001) (stating that a “mediator's involvement in . . . settlement negotiations helps to ensure that the proceedings were free of collusion and undue pressure”); In re GSE Bonds Antitrust Litig., 2019 WL 6842332, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 16, 2019) (Rakoff, J.) (“[T]he parties engaged in mediation and the mediator's declaration confirms that the settlement agreement was ‘a product of extensive and informed negotiations conducted at arm's length’ by ‘sophisticated and capable counsel.’”). As described above, the Settlement was reached only after extensive, arm's-length negotiations before nationally recognized mediators who are experienced in class actions. In advance of that mediation, the Parties submitted detailed mediation statements. The Parties then participated in a mediation, which included providing evidentiary submissions, and reached the Settlement. Importantly, the mediators engaged by the Parties have mediated a number of similar, large settlements involving sexual abuse victims.

In addition, the Parties and their counsel were knowledgeable about the strengths and weaknesses of the case prior to reaching an agreement to settle. Lead Plaintiff agreed to settle after extensive pre- and post-pleading factual investigation and after the close of fact discovery. Lead Plaintiff and Class Counsel therefore had an adequate basis for assessing the strengths and weaknesses of the Class's claims and Defendant's defenses when they agreed to the Settlement. See, e.g., In re Marsh ERISA Litig., 265 F.R.D. 128, 139 (S.D.N.Y. 2010) (granting final approval of settlement and concluding that "[t]he advanced stage of the litigation and extensive amount of discovery completed weigh heavily in favor of [settlement] approval" because "[t]he parties' counsel were clearly in a position to realistically evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of the claims, and to evaluate the fairness of the proposed [s]ettlement"); In re Sumitomo Copper Litig., 189 F.R.D. 274, 281–82 (S.D.N.Y. 1999) (granting preliminary approval of settlement where, as here, plaintiffs "were well informed of the strengths and weaknesses of their claims" after a large number of "documents had been inspected, depositions and private sworn interviews had occurred, plaintiffs had briefed numerous motions, and plaintiffs had consulted extensively with numerous experts"). These circumstances confirm the fairness of the proposed Settlement.

3. The Relief Provided by the Settlement Is Adequate when Weighed Against the Risks of Litigation

Courts consider the best possible recovery and litigation risks in deciding "not whether the settlement represents the best possible recovery, but how the settlement relates to the strengths and weaknesses of the case." City of Providence v. Aeropostale, Inc., 2014 WL 1883494, at *9 (S.D.N.Y. May 9, 2014), aff'd sub nom. Arbuthnot v. Pierson, 607 F. App'x 73 (2d Cir. 2015). A court thus need only determine whether the settlement falls within a range of reasonableness that "recognizes the uncertainties of law and fact in any particular case and the concomitant risks and costs necessarily inherent in taking any litigation to completion.” Pantelyat v. Bank of Am., N.A., 2019 WL 402854, at *7 (S.D.N.Y. Jan 31, 2019) (quoting Newman v. Stein, 464 F.2d 689, 693 (2d Cir. 1972)).

If approved, the Settlement will provide Class Members with $290 million in cash less reasonable attorneys’ fees, litigation expenses, Notice and Administration Expenses, taxes and tax expenses. The recovery obtained represents a favorable result for the Class. Additionally, although Lead Plaintiff and Class Counsel believe their case against Defendant is strong, they acknowledge that Defendant have presented substantial arguments in defense of the matter. Lead Plaintiff and Class Counsel considered the risks that are presented by any jury trial and the inevitable post-trial motions or on appeal. Moreover, even if ultimately successful, the trial and appellate process would likely consume a minimum of two years, if not longer, thereby delaying further the recovery by Class Members of damages they suffered many years ago.

The proposed Settlement therefore balances the risks, costs, and delays inherent in complex class action cases such as this one. When viewed in the context of these risks and the uncertainty of any future recovery from Defendant, the Settlement is extremely beneficial to the Class.

4. The Proposed Method for Distributing Relief Is Effective

The method of the proposed notice and claims administration process is effective. This includes well-established, effective procedures for giving notice to potential Class Members, processing claims submitted by Class Members, and efficiently distributing the Global Settlement Amount.

The Parties recommend that Simone Lelchuk be appointed as the Claims Administrator.⁴ Ms. Lelchuk was appointed as the Claims Administrator in the Jane Doe v. Deutsche Bank case and as such, she is in a unique position to ensure cost efficiency that will allow the maximum amount of the settlement funds to be distributed to Class Members. Moreover, a condition of this settlement is that any amount awarded to claimants in the Deutsche Bank case be taken into consideration by the Claims Administrator in this settlement. Because Ms. Lelchuk will be making those determinations in the Deutsche Bank case, she will have access to that pertinent information. By appointing Ms. Lelchuk as the Claims Administrator in this case, the Court will not only be expediting the process insofar as she will independently have access to the information necessary to make complete determinations, but the administration of this program will be far more cost effective as the same settlement administration company can be used at a lower price. Furthermore, Ms. Lelchuk has cleared her calendar to the extent necessary to be available for the administration of both programs and she has already been approved by the Court to serve in the quasi-judicial function of Claims Administrator in a similarly situated matter. She has extensive experience in handling claims of this nature and will be not only be proficient in identifying non-viable claims, but also well-situated to deliver fair and comparable compensation determinations to claimants across both cases.

The notice plan includes direct mailing (via regular or electronic mail) of the Notice to all Class Members who can be identified with reasonable effort, supplemented by the publication of the Summary Notice in USA Today. Additionally, a dedicated website will be created for the Settlement and will be updated regularly with information and key documents concerning the Settlement, including the Stipulation, Notice, Settlement Forms, Preliminary Approval Order and all briefs and declarations in support of the Settlement and an award of attorneys' fees and expenses.

The proposed claims process also includes a Questionnaire and Release that requests the information necessary to allow the Claims Administrator to evaluate each claim individually. The Stipulation will govern how Class Members' claims will be calculated and how money will be distributed to Participating Claimant. At the outset, a Questionnaire and Release will be provided to the Claims Administrator with built-in protections to avoid the possibility of fraudulent claims, and the Claims Administrator will determine based upon a review of a Class Member's Questionnaire and Release whether the Class Member is eligible to receive an Allocated Amount from the Net Settlement Fund.

In evaluating each claim, the Claims Administrator shall consider the circumstances, severity, type, and extent of the alleged harm, injury, exploitation, abuse or trafficking, the nature and duration of the relationship with Epstein, any cooperation with government investigations or refusal to cooperate with government investigations or refusal to cooperate with this civil litigation including any convictions relating to Epstein's sex trafficking venture, and the impact of the alleged conduct on the Participating Claimant, and the extent of recovery in Jane Doe I, et al, v. Deutsche Bank Aktiengesellschaft, et. al., Case No. 1:22-CV-10018 (JSR).

5. Class Counsel's Fee and Expense Request Is Fair and Reasonable

Class Counsel will apply for an award of attorneys' fees to Class Counsel of no more than thirty percent (30%) of the Settlement Amount, plus litigation costs and expenses incurred in connection with the prosecution and resolution of this Litigation in an amount not to exceed $2.5 million, plus interest earned on both amounts at the same rate as earned by the Global Settlement Fund. For the reasons set forth below, Class Counsel respectfully submits that this request, which also will be further briefed in Class Counsel's forthcoming motion for attorneys' fees and expenses,⁵ is fair and reasonable.

The Supreme Court has long recognized that "a litigant or a lawyer who recovers a common fund for the benefit of persons other than himself or his client is entitled to a reasonable attorney's fee from the fund as a whole." Boeing Co. v. Van Gemert, 444 U.S. 472, 478 (1980). Courts in this District have consistently adhered to this precedent. See, e.g., In re CRM Holdings, 2016 WL 4990290, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 7, 2016) ("Pursuant to the 'equitable' or 'common fund' doctrine . . . attorneys who create a common fund to be shared by a class are entitled to an award of fees and expenses from that fund as compensation for their work." (quoting In re Telik, Inc. Sec. Litig., 576 F. Supp. 2d 570, 584-85 (S.D.N.Y. 2008))); Aeropostale, Inc., 2014 WL 1883494, at *11 ("It is well established that where an attorney creates a common fund from which members of a class are compensated for a common injury, the attorneys who created the fund are entitled to a reasonable fee-set by the court-to be taken from the fund." (quoting In re Top Tankers, Inc. Sec. Litig., 2008 WL 2944620, at *12 (S.D.N.Y. July 31, 2008))).

Typically, courts use one of two methods to determine a reasonable fee: (1) the percentage of recovery method and (2) the lodestar method. Goldberger v. Integrated Resources, Inc., 209 F.3d 43, 47 (2d Cir. 2000). The percentage of recovery method is the preferred method for calculating the reasonableness of attorneys' fees under precedent from the Supreme Court, Second Circuit, and courts in this District. See Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 900 n.16 (1984) ("[U]nder the ‘common fund doctrine,’ . . . a reasonable fee is based on a percentage of the fund bestowed on the class. . . .”); In re Assicurazioni Generali S.p.A. Holocaust Ins. Litig., 2009 WL 762438, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 24, 2009) (explaining that while “both the lodestar and the percentage of the fund methods are available to district judges in calculating attorneys’ fees in common fund cases,” the “trend in this Circuit is toward the percentage [of the fund] method” (first quoting Goldberger, 209 F.3d at 50, and then quoting Wal-Mart, 396 F.3d at 121)).

Courts endorse the percentage of recovery method as the preferred means to determine the reasonableness of attorneys’ fees because it “directly aligns the interests of the class and its counsel and provides a powerful incentive for the efficient prosecution and early resolution of litigation.” Wal-Mart, 396 F.3d at 121 (quoting In re Lloyd’s Am. Trust Fund Litig., 2002 WL 31663577, at *11 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 26, 2002)). In contrast, the lodestar method—under which “the district court scrutinizes the fee petition to ascertain the number of hours reasonably billed to the class and then multiplies that figure by an appropriate hourly rate”—has created “temptation for lawyers to run up the number of hours for which they could be paid,” and “an unanticipated disincentive to early settlements.” Goldberger, 209 F.3d at 47–49. The lodestar method also requires courts to “engage in a gimlet-eyed review of line-item fee audits,” which is “an inevitable waste of judicial resources.” Id. at 49.

For these reasons, courts in the Second Circuit and this District typically utilize the percentage of recovery method. Courts are further guided by the criteria set out in Goldberger v. Integrated Resources, Inc., 209 F.3d 43 (2d Cir. 2000) for determining a reasonable fee in a common fund case: (1) the quality of the representation; (2) the requested fee in relation to the settlement; (3) the time and labor expended by counsel; (4) the risk of the litigation; (5) the magnitude and complexities of the litigation; and (6) public policy considerations. Id. at 50.

Considering these factors, as are further discussed below, Class Counsel's forthcoming fee request is reasonable.

The quality of representation. Class Counsel's fee request will be substantially premised on the successful outcome obtained for the Class. When placed in context of similar settlements and analyzed in light of the specific risks faced in this case, Class Counsel respectfully submits that the $290 million outcome was an excellent result. Indeed, Class Counsel vigorously pursued TVPA claims against sophisticated defense counsel, litigating the case past a challenging motion to dismiss and through a robust fact and expert discovery period. This supports the reasonableness of Class Counsel's forthcoming fee request.

The relationship of the requested fee to the settlement. Class Counsel's forthcoming request for no more than 30% of the Settlement Amount is reasonable and is on par with what courts in this District have awarded counsel in comparable class actions over the last ten years. See, e.g., In re BHP Billiton Ltd. Sec. Litig., No. 1:16-c-v-01445-NRB, 2019 WL 1577313, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 10, 2019) (awarding 40% of $50 million settlement plus expenses), aff'd sub nom. City of Birmingham Ret. & Relife Sys. v. Davis, 806 F. App'x 14 (2d Cir. Mar. 12, 2020); Landmen Partners, Inc. v. Blackstone Grp., L.P., No. 08 CIV. 03601 (HB-FM), 2013 WL 11330936, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 18, 2013) (awarding fees of 33-1/3% of $85 million recovery plus expenses); In re Deutsche Telekom AG Sec. Litig., No. 00 CIV. 0475 (NRB), 2005 WL 7984326, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. June 14, 2005) (awarding 28% of $120 million settlement); In re GSE Bonds Antitrust Litigation, No. 19 CIV. 1704 (JSR), 2020 WL 3250593 (S.D.N.Y. June 16, 2020) (Rakoff, J.) (awarding 20% of $386.5 million antitrust class action settlement); In re London Silver Fixing, Ltd. Antitrust Litig., No. 14-MC-02573-VEC, 2021 WL 3159810 (S.D.N.Y. June 15, 2021) (awarding 30% of $38 million in antitrust class action settlement); Alaska Elec. Pension Fund v. Bank of Am. Corp., No.

14 CIV. 7126 (JMF), 2018 WL 6250657 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 29, 2018) (awarding 26% of $126 million in antitrust class action settlement); Meredith Corp. v. SESAC, LLC, 87 F. Supp. 3d 650 (S.D.N.Y. 2015) (awarding 20.2% of $58.5 million in antitrust class action settlement); Dial Corp. v. News Corp., 217 F.R.D. 426 (S.D.N.Y. 2016) (awarding 20% of $244 million in antitrust class action settlement). Given that fee requests for 30% of the Global Settlement Fund have been approved as reasonable in this Circuit, Class Counsel's forthcoming request for no more than 30% is appropriate.

It is also appropriate for the Court to use the fee applicant's lodestar as a cross-check on reasonableness. Goldberger, 209 F.3d at 50; see also In re AOL Time Warner, Inc. Sec. & ERISA Litig., No. 02 CIV. 5575 (SWK), 2006 WL 3057232, at *28 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 25, 2006) ("It bears emphasis that the lodestar computation here is a cross-check, calculated with less precision than would be required if lodestar were the primary methodology."). Class Counsel's forthcoming fee request is appropriate under that metric, too.

In this contingency fee case, Class Counsel bore substantial risk that it would be paid nothing for its work on behalf of the Class. Fees in excess of the lodestar are routinely awarded to account for this contingency-fee risk and other factors. See In re Flag Telecom Holdings, 2010 WL 4537550, at *26 ("[A] positive multiplier is typically applied to the lodestar in recognition of the risk of the litigation, the complexity of the issues, the contingent nature of the engagement, the skill of the attorneys, and other factors." (quoting In re Marsh & McLennan Cos., Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 04 CIV. 8144 (CM), 2009 WL 5178546, at *20 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 23, 2009))).

Counsel's time and labor. Class Counsel expended substantial time and effort pursuing the litigation on behalf of the Class. Unlike many firms that regularly participate in class action matters, BSF routinely serves as counsel for both plaintiffs and defendants. BSF is primarily a trial firm and prepares its case strategy based on anticipating the requirements for trial and working back from there in implementing strategy for discovery, experts, and motion practice. EHL is a litigation firm specializing in the civil representation of survivors of violent crimes, primarily victims of sexual abuse and sex-trafficking. Together, Class Counsel respectfully submits that the combined approach taken led directly to the successful settlement.

Throughout its time prosecuting the litigation, Class Counsel staffed the matter efficiently and avoided any unnecessary duplication of effort. Moreover, additional hours and resources will necessarily be expended seeking the Court's final approval of the Settlement, assisting Members of the Class with the completion and submission of Settlement Forms, responding to Class Member inquiries, and presenting the final proposed allocation of settlement proceeds among the Class Members. Given the significant amount of time and effort devoted by Class Counsel to obtain a $290 million recovery, a request for attorneys' fees not to exceed 30% of the Settlement Amount is appropriate.

The litigation risks. As set forth above, while Lead Plaintiff remains confident in her claims, trying her case to a jury as a class action would present risk. See §I.A.3., supra. Defendant raised numerous challenges to Lead Plaintiff's allegations of liability under TVPA and under New York law. Maintaining class certification through trial carries risk. Christine Asia Co., Ltd. V. Yun Ma, No. 1:15-md-02631 (CM) (SDA), 2019 WL 5257534, at *13 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 16, 2019) (the risk of maintaining a class action through trial weighed in favor of final approval because "a class certification order may be altered or amended at any time before a decision on the merits"). Securing a guaranteed, substantial payout for the Class counsels in favor of awarding Class Counsel its forthcoming fee request.

The fee award also should take into account the risk that Class Counsel would walk away from this case with nothing. Class Counsel undertook this litigation on a wholly contingent-fee basis, has not yet been compensated for any time or expenses since it began to represent the Class, and would have received no compensation or payment of its expenses had this case not been resolved successfully. In undertaking that responsibility, Class Counsel was obligated to ensure that sufficient attorney and paraprofessional resources were dedicated to prosecuting the litigation and that funds were available to pay the substantial out-of-pocket expenses. Under such circumstances, the financial burden on contingent-fee counsel is far greater than on a firm that is paid on an ongoing basis. With the specter of an exceedingly costly loss always looming, Class Counsel's assumption of the contingent-fee risk strongly supports the reasonableness of a fee request. See Fikes Wholesale, Inc. v. HSBC Bank USA, N.A., 62 F. 4th 704, 727 (2d Cir. 2023) (“The district court reasonably concluded that the significant litigation risk present in this case meant that class counsel had taken on a venture with a high risk of failure, and that the risk should be compensated.”); In re Flag Telecom Holdings, 2010 WL 4537550, at *27 (“Courts in the Second Circuit have recognized that the risk associated with a case undertaken on a contingent fee basis is an important factor in determining an appropriate fee award.”); see also Fresno Cnty. Employees’ Ret. Ass’n v. Isaacson/Weaver Fam. Tr., 925 F.3d 63, 68 (2d Cir. 2019) (“[A]n unenhanced lodestar fee does not account for the contingent risk that a lawyer may assume in taking on a case.”).

The litigation’s complexities and magnitude. The Court may make “specific and detailed findings from the record, as well as from its own familiarity with the case” to determine whether Class Counsel has met an element of the Goldberg test. See Cent. States Se. & Sw. Areas Health & Welfare Fund v. Merck-Medco Managed Care, L.L.C., 504 F.3d 229, 249 (2d Cir. 2007). Here, such findings support Class Counsel's contention that the complexity and magnitude of the Litigation support a fee award for Class Counsel's diligent efforts to secure an excellent settlement for the Class.

The Litigation involved significant briefing, motion practice, fact discovery, and expert discovery between Class Counsel and Defendant's Counsel, requiring sophisticated law firms with significant experience both litigating class action lawsuits and negotiating settlements to deploy significant resources in order to litigate effectively on behalf of their clients. Additionally, the Litigation overlapped with government investigations and regulatory law, expanding the areas covered beyond the already complex substance of the typical class action context. Due to these overlapping areas of expertise required, discovery and motions practice were particularly complex and hard-fought – and would continue to be hard fought were litigation to continue. Given the complexity and high stakes of the Litigation and the significant public interest it attracted, and the resources required to litigate the matter, Class Counsel's ability to secure a favorable outcome counsels in favor of Class Counsel's proposed fee award.

Considerations of public policy. Public policy considerations support awarding the requested fee, particularly because pursuing sex trafficking victims' rights is a necessary and important goal for the legal community. The reality is that “[s]uch actions could not be sustained if plaintiffs’ counsel were not to receive remuneration from the Global Settlement Fund for their efforts on behalf of the class.” Hicks v. Stanley, No. 01 CIV. 10071 (RJH), 2005 WL 2757792, at *9 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 24, 2005). Appropriately compensating Class Counsel for its successful efforts in this case will enhance the incentives for competent counsel to shoulder the significant risk of contingent-fee litigation in service of the public's interest in pursuing the rights of sex trafficking victims.

6. All Class Members Are Treated Equitably Relative to One Another

Rule 23(e)(2)(D) requires courts to evaluate whether the settlement treats class members equitably relative to one another. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(D). Here, the proposed method of allocation is fair, reasonable, and adequate because it does not treat Lead Plaintiff or any other Class Member preferentially. The Stipulation and Notice each explain how the Settlement proceeds will be distributed among Eligible Claimants.

B. The Proposed Settlement Meets the Grinnell Factors

The Complexity, Expense, and Likely Duration of the Litigation Supports Approval of the Settlement. The first factor of the Grinnell analysis overlaps with the Rule 23(e)(2)(C)(i) factor of “the costs, risks, and delay of trial and appeal” addressed above. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(C)(i); see §I.A.3., supra. This case is reflective of the complexity, expense, and duration of class actions.

The Reaction of the Class to the Settlement. Lead Plaintiff supports the Settlement based on her direct participation in the prosecution of the case, in the mediation, and in the decision to enter into the Settlement. At this stage, prior to distribution of notice to Class Members, this factor is not further addressed. See In re GSE Bonds Antitrust Litig., 414 F. Supp. 3d 686, 699 n.1 (S.D.N.Y. 2019) (Rakoff, J.) (consideration of Grinnell factor number 2 “is generally premature at the preliminary approval stage”); In re Warner Chilcott Ltd. Sec. Litig., No. 06 CIV. 11515 (WHP), 2008 WL 5110904, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 20, 2008) (“Consideration of [the class reaction] factor is premature” when “no notice has been sent.”); Soler v. Fresh Direct, LLC, No. 20 CIV. 3431 (AT), 2023 WL 2492977, at *5 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 14, 2023) (“The Court does not consider the second Grinnell factor, which requires the Court to evaluate the ‘reaction of the class to the settlement,’ Grinnell, 495 F.2d at 463, because consideration of this factor is premature at the preliminary approval stage.”).

The Stage of the Proceedings. The extent and substance of Lead Plaintiff’s and Class Counsel’s knowledge of the merits and potential weaknesses of the claims alleged are more than adequate to support the Settlement. See §I.A.2., supra. The voluminous discovery record of hundreds of thousands of pages of documents and 15 depositions, as well as the extensive expert reports and depositions and the evidentiary submissions made during mediation, permitted Lead Plaintiff and Class Counsel to intelligently weigh the strengths and weaknesses of the case and to engage in effective settlement negotiations. See, e.g., In re Marsh ERISA Litig., 265 F.R.D. at 139; In re Sumitomo Copper Litig., 189 F.R.D. at 281–82; Soler, 2023 WL 2492977 at *4; Sewell v. Bovis Lend Lease, Inc., No. 09 CIV. 6548 (RLE), 2012 WL 1320124 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 16, 2012), at *8 (“The Court need not find that the parties have engaged in extensive discovery. Instead, it is enough for the parties to have engaged in sufficient investigation of the facts to enable the Court to ‘intelligently make...an appraisal’ of the Settlement.”) (internal citations omitted).

The Risk of Establishing Liability and Damages. The fourth Grinnell factor is addressed above under Rule 23(e)(2)(C)(i) (“costs, risks, and delay of trial and appeal”). As explained above, Lead Plaintiff has satisfied the fourth Grinnell factor. See §I.A.3., supra.

The Risks of Maintaining the Class Action through Trial. Although the risk of maintaining a class through trial is present in every class action, this factor nevertheless weighs in favor of settlement where it is “likely that defendants would oppose class certification if the case were to be litigated.” In re Payment Card Interchange Fee & Merch. Disc. Antitrust Litig., 330 F.R.D. 11, 39–40 (E.D.N.Y. 2019); see also In re Bear Stearns Companies, Inc. Sec., Derivative, & ERISA Litig., 909 F. Supp. 2d 259, 268–69 (S.D.N.Y. 2012) (“The risk that Defendants could in fact succeed in their efforts to decertify the class militates in favor of settlement approval.”). Such is the case here. Lead Plaintiff and Defendant reached a settlement. However, if the case were to proceed to trial, Defendant could — and likely would — appeal the Court’s certification order, see Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(f), seek to narrow the Class definition at a later point, and/or move for decertification of the class that the Court certified, see Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(1)(C) (“An order that grants or denies class certification may be altered or amended before final judgment.”). Thus, Lead Plaintiff has satisfied the fifth Grinnell factor.

Defendant’s Ability to Withstand a Greater Judgment. While not generally a determining factor, a court may consider a defendant’s ability to withstand a judgment greater than that secured by the proposed settlement. See D’Amato, 236 F.3d at 86 (upholding district court’s conclusion that the while “Defendant’s ability to withstand a higher judgment weighed against the settlement,” it did not alone “suggest that the settlement is unfair”). Courts generally do not find this factor to be an impediment to settlement when the other Grinnell and Rule 23 factors favor settlement. See In re Vitamin C Antitrust Litig., No. 06-MD-1738 BMC JO, 2012 WL 5289514, at *6 (E.D.N.Y. Oct. 23, 2012) (“[I]n any class action against a large corporation, the defendant entity is likely to be able to withstand a more substantial judgment, and, against the weight of the remaining factors, this fact alone does not undermine the reasonableness of the instant settlement.” (quoting Weber v. Gov’t Emps. Ins. Co., 262 F.R.D. 431, 447 (D.N.J. 2009))). This factor is neutral. See Nichols v. Noom, Inc., No. 20 CIV. 3677 (KHP), 2022 WL 2705354, at *10 (S.D.N.Y. July 12, 2022).

The Reasonableness of the Settlement in Light of the Best Possible Recovery and the Attendant Risks of Litigation. The adequacy of the amount recovered in a settlement must be judged “not in comparison with the possible recovery in the best of all possible worlds, but rather in light of the strengths and weaknesses of plaintiffs’ case.” In re Agent Orange Prod. Liab. Litig., 597 F. Supp. 740, 762 (E.D.N.Y. 1984), aff’d, 818 F.2d 145 (2d Cir. 1987). The Court need only determine whether the Settlement falls within a “range of reasonableness”—a range that “recognizes the uncertainties of law and fact in any particular case and the concomitant risks and costs necessarily inherent in taking any litigation to completion.” Newman, 464 F.2d at 693; see also Glob. Crossing, 225 F.R.D. at 461 (“The certainty of [a] settlement amount has to be judged in [the] context of the legal and practical obstacles to obtaining a large recovery.”); In re Indep. Energy Holdings PLC Sec. Litig., No. 00 CIV. 6689 (SAS), 2003 WL 22244676, at *3-4 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 29, 2003) (“Few cases tried before a jury result in a verdict awarding the full amount of damages claimed.”). Here, given the facts and circumstances relating to Defendant, including the nature of Defendant’s conduct and knowledge, the time period involved, and the size and complexity of the case, the Settlement amount is reasonable.

In sum, all of the Rule 23 and Grinnell factors weigh in favor of preliminary approval of the Settlement, except possibly one neutral factor. Preliminary approval in these circumstances is entirely appropriate and warranted.

II. NOTICE TO THE CLASS SHOULD BE APPROVED

As outlined in the agreed-upon form of the proposed Preliminary Approval Order, and described above, Lead Plaintiff will notify Class Members by mailing the Notice and Settlement Forms to all Class Members who can be identified with reasonable effort.

The Notice will advise the Members of the Class of the essential terms of the Settlement and provide information regarding Class Counsel’s application for an award of attorneys’ fees and expenses. The Notice also will provide specifics on the date, time, and place of the Settlement Hearing and set forth the procedures for both submitting valid and timely Settlement Forms and objecting to the Settlement, and/or the application for attorneys’ fees and expenses. Further, the Notice will provide contact information for the Claims Administrator and Class Counsel and advise Class Members on how to obtain further information regarding the Settlement.

In addition to mailing (via regular or electronic mail) the Notice and Settlement Forms, the Claims Administrator will cause publication of a Summary Notice in USA Today. Defendant will serve notice of the proposed Settlement on the appropriate federal and state officials under the Class Action Fairness Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1715, et seq.

The form and manner of providing notice to the Class satisfy the requirements of Due Process and Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23. Under Rule 23(c)(2), the Court “must direct to class members the best notice that is practicable under the circumstances.” Vargas v. Capital One Fin. Advisors, 559 F. App’x 22, 26 (2d Cir. 2014). In addition to how it is delivered, the notice “must fairly apprise the prospective members of the class of the terms of the proposed settlement and of the options that are open to them in connection with the proceedings,” including the opportunity to opt out of or object to the settlement. Id. at 27; see also Shapiro v. JPMorgan Chase & Co., No. 11 CIV. 7961 (CM), 2014 WL 1224666, at *17 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 24, 2014). The requirements of Due Process impose similar requirements. Consol. Edison, Inc. v. Ne. Utilities, 332 F. Supp. 2d 639, 652 (S.D.N.Y. 2004).

Here, the manner of providing notice, which includes (i) the creation of a dedicated website, and (ii) notice published in USA Today represents the best notice practicable under the circumstances. The Notice and Summary Notice will also include (i) the rights of the Settlement Class Members, including the manner in which objections can be lodged, (ii) the nature, history and progress of the litigation, (iii) how to file Settlement Forms, (iv) a description of the Plan of Allocation (also described in the Stipulation), and (v) the fees and litigation expenses to be sought by Class Counsel. See, e.g., Rodriguez v. CPI Aerostructures, Inc., No. 20 CIV. 0982 (ENVCLP), 2021 WL 9032223, at *13 (E.D.N.Y. Nov. 10, 2021) (finding that notice plan was “reasonable and adequate” because the proposed notice was “detailed enough to inform the class members of their rights and obligations, and the proposed methods of notice, including publishing the summary notice in USA Today, are practical and likely to be effective in reaching the affected individuals”); In re Initial Pub. Offering Sec. Litig., 260 F.R.D. at 119–20 (same). In short, the Notice and Summary Notice satisfy all requirements of Due Process and Rule 23 because they “fairly apprise the prospective members of the class of the terms of the proposed settlement and of the options that are open to them in connection with the proceedings.” Wal-Mart, 396 F.3d at 114 (quoting Weinberger, 698 F.2d at 70).

PROPOSED SCHEDULE OF SETTLEMENT EVENTS

Lead Plaintiff proposes the following schedule for the Settlement-related events in this case:

Event	Proposed Due Date
Deadline for commencing mailing (via regular or electronic mail) of the Notice and Settlement Forms to the Class (the “Notice Date”)	10 calendar days after entry of Preliminary Approval Order.
Deadline for publishing the Summary Notice	25 calendar days after the entry of Preliminary Approval Order.
Deadline for Class Members to Submit Opt-Out Forms	Postmarked no later than 30 calendar days after the Notice Date.
Deadline for Claims Administrator to notify Class Counsel and Defendant’s Counsel of the name of each person who submits an Opt-Out Form or revocation thereof	Within five (5) calendar days of receipt
Deadline for Questionnaire and Release to be Submitted to the Claims Administrator	Postmarked no later than 45 calendar days from the Notice Date.
Deadline for Class Counsel to serve on Defendant’s Counsel and file with the Court proof, by affidavit or declaration, of mailing and publishing of the Summary Notice	45 business days after the entry of Preliminary Approval Order
Deadline for filing of papers in support of final approval of Settlement and Class Counsel’s application for attorneys’ fees and expenses	35 calendar days prior to Settlement Hearing.
Deadline for receipt of objections to final approval of Settlement and Class Counsel’s application for attorneys’ fees and expenses	No later than 21 calendar days prior to Settlement Hearing.
Deadline for filing reply papers regarding final approval of Settlement and Class Counsel’s application for attorneys’ fees and expenses	7 calendar days prior to Settlement Hearing.
Settlement Hearing	At the Court’s convenience; Parties request 125 calendar days after entry of the Preliminary Approval Order.

Deadline for Claims Administrator to provide in writing to Class Counsel and Defendant's Counsel, simultaneously and in a manner that ensures confidentiality, the names of all Participating Claimants on the same date.	45 days after entry of the Final Approval Order, or at such time as agreed upon by the Settling Parties.
Deadline for Claims Administrator to provide in writing to Class Counsel and Defendant's Counsel, simultaneously and in a manner that ensures confidentiality, the Allocated Amounts for all eligible Participating Claimants on the same date.	90 days after entry of the Final Approval Order, or at such time as agreed upon by the Settling Parties.

CONCLUSION

Lead Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court: (i) preliminarily approve the Settlement; (ii) approve the proposed form and manner of notice to be given to the Class; and (iii) schedule a hearing on Lead Plaintiff's motion for final approval of the Settlement and Class Counsel's application for an award of attorneys' fees and expenses. The Parties' agreed-upon form of proposed Preliminary Approval Order and exhibits thereto (Notice of Proposed Settlement of Class Action, Summary Notice of Proposed Settlement of Class Action, Settlement Forms, and Proposed Order and Final Judgment) are filed herewith.

Counsel for Jane Doe 1 and the Class

EXHIBIT A

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

Jane Doe 1, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A.,

Defendant.

Case No. 1:22-CV-10019 (JSR)

[PROPOSED] ORDER GRANTING PRELIMINARY APPROVAL PURSUANT TO
FED. R. CIV. P. 23(e)(1) AND PERMITTING NOTICE TO THE CLASS

WHEREAS, an action pending before this Court is styled Jane Doe I v. JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., Case No. 1:22-CV-10019 (JSR) (the “Litigation”);

WHEREAS, Class Representative, having made a motion pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(e) for an order preliminarily approving the Settlement of this Litigation, in accordance with a Stipulation of Settlement, dated June 22, 2023 (the “Stipulation”), which, together with the Exhibits annexed thereto, sets forth the terms and conditions for a proposed Settlement of the Litigation between the Settling Parties and for dismissal of the Litigation with prejudice upon, and subject to, the terms and conditions set forth therein; and the Court having read and considered: (1) the motion for preliminary approval of the Settlement, and the papers filed and arguments made in connection therewith, and (2) the Stipulation and the exhibits annexed thereto;

WHEREAS, the Settlement will resolve the claims of all persons who were harmed, injured, exploited, or abused by Jeffrey Epstein, or by any person who is connected to or otherwise associated with Jeffrey Epstein or any Jeffrey Epstein sex trafficking venture, between January 1, 1998, and through August 10, 2019, inclusive. This includes, but is not limited to, (1) individuals under the age of 18 who engaged in sexual contact with Epstein and/or a person connected to or otherwise associated with Epstein, and received money or something else of value in exchange for engaging in that sexual contact (even if the sexual contact was perceived to be consensual); (2) individuals aged 18 or older who were forced, coerced, or defrauded into engaging in sexual contact by Epstein and/or anyone connected to Epstein or otherwise associated with Epstein by, for example, using physical force, threatening serious harm or legal action, making a false promise, or causing them to believe that not engaging in sexual contact would result in serious harm, and who received money or something else of value in exchange for engaging in that sexual contact; (3) individuals of any age with whom Epstein, and/or a person connected to or otherwise associated with Epstein, engaged in sexual contact without consent (even if the sexual contact was perceived to be consensual provided that the individual was under the age of 18 at the time of engaging in that contact); and (4) individuals falling into examples (1)-(3) where the sexual contact occurred prior to January 1, 1998, who were harmed during the Class Period by the alleged obstruction of any government investigation or were otherwise harmed by Epstein's conduct or were prevented within the Class Period from contacting law enforcement or otherwise seeking help by Epstein and/or anyone connected to Epstein or otherwise associated with Epstein by, for example, physical force, the threat of serious harm or legal action, or making a false promise.

WHEREAS, the Settling Parties having consented to the entry of this Order; and WHEREAS, unless otherwise defined, all terms used herein have the same meanings as set forth in the Stipulation.

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED:

1. The Court has reviewed the Stipulation and does hereby preliminarily approve the Stipulation and the Settlement set forth therein as fair, reasonable, and adequate, subject to further consideration at the Settlement Hearing (as defined in ¶ 3 below).

2. The Court preliminarily finds that the proposed Settlement should be approved as it: (i) is the result of good faith, extensive arm's-length and non-collusive negotiations; (ii) falls within a range of reasonableness warranting final approval; (iii) has no obvious deficiencies; and (iv) warrants notice of the proposed Settlement to Class Members and further consideration of the Settlement at the Settlement Hearing described below.

3. A hearing shall be held before this Court on _____, 2023, at ___:___ .m. (the "Settlement Hearing"), at the Daniel Patrick Moynihan United States Courthouse, United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, 500 Pearl Street,

New York, NY 10007, to: (a) determine whether the proposed Settlement of the Litigation on the terms and conditions provided for in the Stipulation is fair, reasonable, and adequate to the Class and should be approved by the Court; (b) determine whether a Judgment as provided in ¶ 1.14 of the Stipulation should be entered; (c) determine whether the proposed Plan of Allocation as described in the Stipulation and Notice (as defined below) should be approved; (d) determine the amount of attorneys' fees, costs, charges, and expenses that should be awarded to Class Counsel; (e) hear any objections by Class Members to the Settlement or Plan of Allocation, the award of attorneys' fees and expenses to Class Counsel; and (f) consider such other matters the Court deems appropriate. The Court may adjourn or change the date and time of the Settlement Hearing without further notice to the Class.

4. The Court approves the form, substance, and requirements of the Notice of Proposed Settlement of Class Action ("Notice"), substantially in the form annexed hereto as Exhibit A-1.

5. The Court approves the form of the Summary Notice of Proposed Settlement of Class Action ("Summary Notice"), substantially in the form annexed hereto as Exhibit A-2.

6. _____ (the "Claims Administrator") is hereby appointed to supervise and administer the notice procedure as well as the processing of Claims as more fully set forth below.

7. No later than ten (10) calendar days after entry of this Order, or _____, 2023 (the "Notice Date"), the Claims Administrator shall cause a copy of the Notice and the Questionnaire to be mailed by First-Class Mail or electronic mail to all Class Members who can be identified with reasonable effort and to be posted on the case-designated website. For all Notices returned as undeliverable, the Claims Administrator shall use her best efforts to locate updated addresses.

8. No later than twenty-five (25) calendar days after entry of this Order, or _____, 2023, the Claims Administrator shall cause the Summary Notice to be published once in USA Today.

9. At least forty-five (45) calendar days prior to the Settlement Hearing, or _____, 2023, Class Counsel shall serve on Defendant's Counsel and file with the Court proof, by affidavit or declaration, of such mailing and publishing.

10. The Court finds that the form and content of the notice program described herein and the methods set forth herein for notifying the Class of the Settlement and its terms and conditions, the Fee and Expense Application, and the Plan of Allocation meet the requirements of Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, and Due Process, constitute the best notice practicable under the circumstances, and shall constitute due and sufficient notice to all Persons entitled thereto.

11. All fees, costs, and expenses incurred in identifying and notifying Class Members shall be paid from the Qualified Settlement Fund established by the stipulation.

12. All Class Members shall be bound by all determinations and judgments in the Litigation concerning the Settlement (including, but not limited to, the releases provided for therein) whether favorable or unfavorable to the Class, regardless of whether such Persons seek or obtain by any means (including, without limitation, by submitting a Questionnaire and Release, or any similar document) any distribution from the Net Settlement Fund.

13. In order to receive funds from the Settlement, Class Members (or Class Counsel, on their behalf) must submit a Questionnaire and Release. Unless the Court orders otherwise, all Questionnaires and Releases must be postmarked or submitted electronically no later than forty-five (45) calendar days from the Notice Date, or _____, 2023. If deemed eligible by the Claims Administrator, such Claimants (“Participating Claimants”) will receive an amount as determined by the Claims Administrator based on the circumstances, severity, type, and extent of the alleged harm, injury, exploitation, abuse or trafficking, the nature and duration of the relationship with Epstein, any cooperation with government investigations or refusal to cooperate with government investigations or refusal to cooperate with this civil litigation including any convictions relating to Epstein’s sex trafficking venture, and the impact of the alleged conduct on the Participating Claimant, and the extent of recovery in Jane Doe I, et al, v. Deutsche Bank Aktiengesellschaft, et. al., Case No. 1:22-CV-10018 (JSR). Any Class Member who does not submit a Questionnaire and Release within the time provided shall in all other respects be bound by the terms of the Stipulation and by any final judgment entered by the Court.

14. Any Class Member may enter an appearance in the Litigation, at his, her, or its own expense, individually or through counsel of his, her, or its own choice. If any Class Member does not enter an appearance, they will be represented by Class Counsel.

15. Any Person falling within the definition of the Class may, upon request, be excluded or “opt-out” from the Settlement Class. Any such Person must submit to the Claims Administrator a request for exclusion (“Opt-Out Form”), by First-Class Mail or online. To be valid, the Opt-Out Form must be postmarked or submitted electronically no later than thirty (30) calendar days from the Notice Date, or _____, 2023. An Opt-Out Form must be signed and state: (a) the name, address, and telephone number of the Person requesting exclusion; and (b) that the Person wishes to be excluded from the Class. All Persons who submit valid and timely Opt-Out Forms in the manner set forth in this paragraph shall have no rights under the Stipulation, shall not share in the distribution of the Net Settlement Fund, and shall not be bound by the Stipulation or the Final Judgment.

16. Within seven (7) calendar days of receiving any Opt-Out Form, the Claims Administrator shall deliver a copy of each such Opt-Out Form to Class Counsel and Defendant's Counsel. The Claims Administrator shall also provide any written revocation of Opt-Out Forms within seven (7) calendar days of receipt.

17. Any Class Member may appear at the Settlement Hearing and object if she has any reason why the proposed Settlement of the Litigation should not be approved as fair, reasonable, and adequate, why a judgment should not be entered thereon, why the Plan of Allocation should not be approved, or why attorneys' fees, together with costs, charges, and expenses should not be awarded; provided that any such Class Member (or any other Person) files objections and copies of any papers and briefs with the Clerk of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York and mails copies thereof by first-class mail to Boies Schiller Flexner LLP, Andrew Villacastin, 55 Hudson Yards, 20th Floor, New York, NY 10001; Wilmer Cutler Pickering Hale and Dorr LLP, John Butts, 60 State Street, Boston MA 02109, no later than twenty-one (21) days prior to the Settlement Hearing, or _____, 2023. Any Class Member who does not make his, her, or its objection in the manner provided shall be deemed to have waived such objection and shall forever be foreclosed from making any objection to the fairness, reasonableness or adequacy of the proposed Settlement as incorporated in the Stipulation, to the Plan of Allocation as described in the Stipulation and Notice, or to the award of fees, costs, charges, and expenses to Class Counsel, or Settlement Class Representative, unless otherwise ordered by the Court. Attendance at the Settlement Hearing is not necessary. However, Persons wishing to be heard orally in opposition to the approval of the Settlement, the Plan of Allocation, and/or the application for an award of fees, costs, charges, and expenses are required to indicate in their written objection their intention to appear at the hearing and to include in their written objections the identity of any witnesses they may call to testify and copies of any exhibits they intend to introduce into evidence at the Settlement Hearing. Class Members do not need to appear at the Settlement Hearing or take any other action to indicate their approval.

18. Any objections, filings, and other submissions by an objecting Class Member must: (i) state the name, address and telephone number of the Person objecting and must be signed by the objector; (ii) contain a statement of the Class Members' objection or objections, and the specific reasons for each objection, including any legal and evidentiary support the Class Member wishes to bring to the Court's attention and whether the objections applies only to the objector, a specific subset of the Class, or to the entire Class; and (iii) include documents sufficient to prove membership in the Class.

19. Any Class Member who does not object to the Settlement, the Plan of Allocation, or Class Counsel's application for an award of attorneys' fees, costs, charges, and expenses in the manner prescribed herein and in the Notice shall be deemed to have waived such objection, and shall forever be foreclosed from making any objection to the fairness, adequacy, or reasonableness of the proposed Settlement, this Order and the Judgment to be entered approving the Settlement, the Plan of Allocation, and/or the application by Class Counsel for an award of attorneys' fees together with costs, charges, and expenses.

20. All funds held by the Escrow Agent shall be deemed and considered to be in custodia legis and shall remain subject to the jurisdiction of the Court until such time as such funds shall be distributed pursuant to the Stipulation and/or further order(s) of the Court.

21. All papers in support of the Settlement, Plan of Allocation, and any application by Class Counsel for attorneys' fees, costs, charges, and expenses shall be filed and served no later than thirty-five (35) calendar days before the Settlement Hearing, or _____, 2023, any opposition papers thereto shall be filed and served no later than twenty-one (21) calendar days before the Settlement Hearing, or _____, 2023, and any reply papers shall be filed and served no later than seven (7) calendar days before the Settlement Hearing, or _____, 2023.

22. The Released Defendant Parties shall have no responsibility or liability for the Plan of Allocation or any application for attorneys' fees, costs, charges, or expenses submitted by Class Counsel, and such matters will be considered by the Court separately from the fairness, reasonableness, and adequacy of the Settlement.

23. At or after the Settlement Hearing, the Court shall determine whether the Plan of Allocation proposed by Class Counsel, and any application for attorneys' fees, costs, charges, and expenses, should be approved. The Court reserves the right to enter the Judgment finally approving the Settlement regardless of whether it has approved the Plan or Allocation or awarded attorneys' fees and/or costs, charges, and expenses.

24. All reasonable expenses incurred in identifying and notifying Class Members as well as administering the Settlement Fund shall be paid as set forth in the Stipulation. In the event the Court does not approve the Settlement, or the Settlement otherwise fails to become effective, neither Settlement Class Representative nor Class Counsel nor the Claims Administrator shall have any obligation to repay any amounts actually and properly incurred or disbursed pursuant to ¶ 5.8 of the Stipulation.

25. This Order and the Stipulation (including any of their respective terms or provisions), any of the negotiations, discussions, prior agreements, proceedings connected with them, and any act performed or document executed pursuant to or in furtherance of the Stipulation or the Settlement or this Order, may not be construed as an admission or concession by the Released Defendant Parties of the truth of any of the allegations in the Litigation, or of any liability, fault, or wrongdoing of any kind, and may not be offered or received in evidence (or otherwise used by any person in the Litigation, or in any other action or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, or administrative, in any court, administrative agency, or other tribunal) except in connection with any proceeding to enforce the terms of the Stipulation or this Order. The Released Defendant Parties, Settlement Class Representative, Class Members, and each of their counsel may file the Stipulation, and/or this Order, and/or the Judgment in any action that may be brought against them in order to support a defense or counterclaim based on principles of res judicata, collateral estoppel, release, good faith settlement, judgment bar or reduction or any other theory of claim preclusion or issue preclusion or similar defense or counterclaim.

26. All proceedings in the Litigation are stayed until further order of this Court, except as may be necessary to implement the Settlement or comply with the terms of the Stipulation. Pending final determination of whether the Settlement should be approved, neither the Settlement Class Representative nor any Class Member, either directly, representatively, or in any other capacity shall commence or prosecute any of the Released Claims against any of the Released Defendant Parties in any action or proceeding in any court or tribunal.

27. The Court reserves the right to alter the time or the date of the Settlement Hearing or to hold the hearing via video or telephone without further notice to Class Members and retains jurisdiction to consider all further applications arising out of or connected with the proposed Settlement. The Court may approve the Settlement, with such modifications as may be agreed to by the Settling Parties, if appropriate, without further notice to the Class.

28. In the event this Stipulation or the Settlement is terminated or the Effective Date otherwise fails to occur for any reason, the Settling Parties shall be restored to their respective positions in the Litigation as of [X] and shall meet and confer regarding a new case schedule for the Litigation. In such event, the terms and provisions of the Stipulation shall have no further force and effect with respect to the Settling Parties and shall not be used in this Litigation or in any other proceeding for any purpose, and any judgment or order entered by the Court in accordance with the terms of this Stipulation shall be treated as vacated, nunc pro tunc.

29. The Parties shall, no later than ten (10) calendar days following the filing of the Stipulation with the Court, serve upon the appropriate state and federal officials a notice of the proposed Settlement in compliance with the requirements of the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005 (“CAFA”), 28 U.S.C. § 1715. The Parties are equally responsible for the costs of the CAFA notice and administering the CAFA notice. At least fourteen (14) calendar days before the Settlement Hearing, the Parties shall file with the Court proof, by affidavit or declaration, regarding compliance with CAFA § 1715(b).

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Case No. 1:22-CV-10019 (JSR)

[PROPOSED] ORDER AND FINAL JUDGMENT

WHEREAS, on the __ day of _____, 2023, this Court held a hearing to determine: (1) whether the proposed Settlement of the Litigation on the terms and conditions provided for in the Stipulation of Settlement dated June 22, 2023 (the “Stipulation”) is fair, reasonable, and adequate to the Class and should be approved by the Court; (2) whether a Judgment, as provided in ¶ 1.14 of the Stipulation, should be entered; (3) whether the proposed Plan of Allocation, as described in the Stipulation and Notice, should be approved; (4) whether and in what amount to award Class Counsel in fees and costs, charges, and expenses; and (5) whether and in what amount to award Class Representative its costs and expenses in representing the Class;

WHEREAS, the Court has considered all matters submitted to it at the hearing and otherwise;

WHEREAS, it appears that a notice of the hearing substantially in the form approved by the Court on _____, 2023 (the “Notice”) was provided to all persons who were harmed, injured, exploited, or abused by Jeffrey Epstein, or by any person who is connected to or otherwise associated with Jeffrey Epstein or any Jeffrey Epstein sex trafficking venture, between January 1, 1998, and through August 10, 2019, as shown by the records compiled by the Claims Administrator in connection with its providing of the Notice, at the respective addresses set forth in such records, and that a Summary Notice of the hearing substantially in the form approved by the Court on _____, 2023 was published pursuant to the Order Preliminarily Approving Settlement and Providing for Notice (the “Preliminary Approval Order”) as set forth in the Declaration of _____;

WHEREAS, the Court has considered and determined the fairness and reasonableness of the award of attorneys’ fees and costs, charges, and expenses requested by Class Counsel and the request for Class Representative’s costs and expenses; and

WHEREAS, all capitalized terms not otherwise defined herein having the meanings set forth and defined in the Stipulation.

NOW THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

1. This Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of the Litigation and over all parties to the Litigation, including all Class Members.

2. Excluded from the Class is any Class Member that validly and timely requested exclusion via an Opt-Out Form as listed on Exhibit 1 annexed hereto.

3. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23, the Court hereby approves the Settlement set forth in the Stipulation and finds that:

(a) in light of the benefits to the Class and the complexity and expense of further litigation, the Stipulation and the Settlement described therein, are, in all respects, fair, reasonable, and adequate and in the best interest of the Class;

(b) Class Representative and Class Counsel have adequately represented the Class;

(c) there was no collusion in connection with the Stipulation;

(d) the Stipulation was the product of informed, arm's-length negotiations among competent, able counsel;

(e) the relief provided for the Class is adequate, having taken into account (i) the costs, risks, and delay of trial and appeal; (ii) the effectiveness of any proposed method of distributing relief to the Class, including the method of processing Class Members' Claims, (iii) the terms of any proposed award of attorneys' fees, including timing of payment; and (iv) any agreement required to be identified under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(e)(2);

(f) the proposed Plan of Allocation, as described in the Stipulation and

Notice, treats Class Members equitably relative to each other; and

(g) the record is sufficiently developed and complete to have enabled Class Representative and Defendant to have adequately evaluated and considered their positions.

4. Accordingly, the Court authorizes and directs implementation and performance of all the terms and provisions of the Stipulation, as well as the terms and provisions hereof. Except as to any individual claim of those Persons who have validly and timely requested exclusion from the Class, the Court hereby dismisses the Litigation and all Released Claims with prejudice. The Settling Parties are to bear their own costs, except as and to the extent provided in the Stipulation and herein.

5. The releases as set forth in ¶¶ 4.1 – 4.2 of the Stipulation (the “Releases”), together with the definitions contained in ¶¶ 1.1 - 1.34 relating thereto, are expressly incorporated herein in all respects. The Releases are effective as of the Effective Date.

6. Upon the Effective Date, and as provided in ¶ 4.1 of the Stipulation, the Released Plaintiff Parties shall be deemed to have, and by operation of this Judgment shall have, fully, finally, and forever waived, released, relinquished, discharged, and dismissed with prejudice each and every one of the Released Plaintiffs’ Claims and shall forever be barred and enjoined from asserting, commencing, instituting, prosecuting, continuing to prosecute, or maintaining in any court of law or equity, arbitration tribunal, or administrative forum any and all of the Released Plaintiffs’ Claims against any and all of the Released Defendant Parties, whether or not such Released Plaintiff Parties execute and deliver Questionnaire and Release or share in the Net Settlement Fund. Nothing in the Stipulation or this Judgment shall be construed as limiting, modifying, or otherwise affecting any insurance coverage or policies that may be available to any of the Released Defendant Parties.

7. Upon the Effective Date, and as provided in ¶ 4.2 of the Stipulation, each of the Released Defendant Parties shall be deemed to have, and by operation of this Judgment shall have, fully, finally, and forever released, relinquished, and discharged all Released Defendant's Claims against the Released Plaintiff Parties.

8. The Notice of Proposed Settlement of Class Action given to the Class was the best notice practicable under the circumstances, including the individual Notice to all Class Members who could be identified through reasonable effort. The Notice provided the best notice practicable under the circumstances of those proceedings and of the matters set forth therein, including the proposed Settlement set forth in the Stipulation, to all Persons entitled to such notice, and said Notice fully satisfied the requirements of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23, the constitutional requirements of Due Process, and any other applicable law. No Class Member is relieved from the terms of the Settlement, including the Releases provided for therein, based upon the contention or proof that such Class Member failed to receive actual or adequate notice. A full opportunity has been offered to Class Members to object to the proposed Settlement and to participate in the hearing thereon. The Court further finds that the notice provisions of the Class Action Fairness Act, 28 U.S.C. §1715, were fully discharged and that the statutory waiting period has elapsed. Thus, the Court hereby determines that all Class Members are bound by this Judgment.

9. The Court hereby finds that the proposed Plan of Allocation, as described in the Stipulation and Notice, is fair, reasonable, and adequate. A separate order shall be entered regarding Class Counsel's application for an award of attorneys' fees and expenses. Any order or proceeding relating to the Plan of Allocation or any order entered regarding any attorneys' fee and expense application shall in no way disturb or affect this Judgment and shall be considered separate from this Judgment.

10. Any appeal or any challenge affecting this Court's approval regarding any attorneys' fee and expense applications shall in no way disturb or affect the finality of the other provisions of this Judgment nor the Effective Date of the Settlement.

11. Neither this Judgment, the Stipulation, the Settlement contained therein, nor the prior agreement made and entered by and between Class Representative on behalf of itself and each Class Member, by and through its counsel of record in the Litigation, and Defendant, by and through their counsel of record in the Litigation, dated June 11, 2023, nor any act performed or document executed pursuant to or in furtherance of the Stipulation or the Settlement: (a) is, or may be deemed to be, or may be used as an admission of, or evidence of, the validity of any Released Claim, or of any liability, negligence, fault, or other wrongdoing of the Released Defendant Parties, or (b) is, or may be deemed to be, or may be used as an admission of, or evidence of, any fault or omission of the Released Defendant Parties in any civil, criminal, or administrative proceeding in any court, administrative agency, or other tribunal. Released Defendant Parties may file the Stipulation and/or the Judgment from this Litigation in any other action in order to support a defense or counterclaim based on principles of res judicata, collateral estoppel, release, good faith settlement, judgment bar or reduction, or any theory of claim preclusion or issue preclusion or similar defense or counterclaim.

12. The Court finds that Defendant has satisfied its financial obligations under the Stipulation by paying or causing to be paid $290,000,000 to the Escrow Account, in accordance with ¶ 2.2 of the Stipulation.

13. Without affecting the finality of this Judgment in any way, this Court hereby retains continuing jurisdiction over Defendant, Class Representative, and Class Members for all matters relating to the administration, interpretation, effectuation, or enforcement of the Stipulation and this Judgment, including administering and distributing Settlement proceeds to the Class Members.

14. The Settling Parties are hereby authorized, without further approval of the Court, to unanimously agree to and adopt in writing amendments, modifications, and expansions of the Stipulation, provided that such amendments, modifications, and expansions of the Stipulation are not materially inconsistent with this Judgment, and do not materially limit the rights of the Class Members under the Stipulation.

15. Without further order of the Court, the Settling Parties may agree to reasonable extensions of time to carry out any of the provisions of the Stipulation.

16. This Litigation and all Released Claims are dismissed with prejudice. The parties are to bear their own costs, except as otherwise agreed to in writing by the Settling Parties or as otherwise provided in the Stipulation or this Judgment.

17. There is no reason for delay in the entry of this Judgment and the Court expressly directs immediate entry of this Judgment by the Clerk of the Court.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

THE HONORABLE JED S. RAKOFF
UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE
